U.S. GIRL SWIMS

THE ENGLISH CHANNEL

Miss Gertrude Edele, an American girl, 17 years old, of New York, swam the English channel last Friday. She is the first of her sex to accomplish this feat, and took 14 hours and 21 minutes to reach the English coast.

Miss Edele, who entered the channel at Cape Gris Nez, France, shortly after 7 o'clock Friday morning, landed near Kilmoryn, on the English coast.

The weather conditions when she started her plunge were fine. About 10 miles from the English coast, she encountered a strong northeast wind, blowing against the tide, which kicked up a rough sea, and which made her progress appear bad. Some time afterwards, however, rain began to fall and the wind died down to some extent, when she finally reached her goal.

A cent of insolence about an eighth of an inch thick, a level of heavy grease, a navy blue swimming suit, cut deeply under the arms, and over a third layer of grease, was Miss Edele's protection from the cold.

Study Weather Conditions
 In the Argentine

The Alberta Wheat Pool announced on Monday that W. J. Jackson, one of the directors, is proceeding to the Argentine on Saturday next to study wheat producing and trading conditions in that country.

on behalf of the three prairie points.
 He will be away for about three months.

A cable just received at the pool office states that H. W. Wood, the chairman of the board of trustees, and George McIvor, western sales manager, have just arrived at Kobe, Japan, in excellent health.

FARMING ON HIGHER LEVEL IN ALBERTA

Prospects for the future never looked brighter than they do at the present moment for Western Canada.
 This is especially true of our own province. It is pretty safe to predict an over-the-average crop of wheat, and a price providing a good return to the farmer for his investment and labor. With a proven oil field outside capital will naturally flow in, especially from the United States, which is the fortunate position of having more cash capital than it has find safe investment for. With every acre increasing the use to which the product of our oil wells can be put, the presence in Alberta of immense bodies of petroleum means an increase in our provincial wealth, which it would be hard to overestimate.

Perhaps the most logical sign of all is the improved methods of farming which our agriculturists of today are using in their operations.
 The day has come by when the man who was a failure in every other walk of life is reckoned good enough to be a farmer. It is now recognized that agriculture demands as much brain power and technical knowledge as any other industry, and brain and knowledge are being used today as never before. Those who now are engaging in agriculture are doing so as a life work and not merely as a stop-gap to another activity. They are building homes, improving schools, and the telephone, radio and automobile have changed the aspect of things so radically that the farmer, instead of being a place practically cut off from all social enjoyment, is in many ways on a par with the city dweller. The social life, especially for the children.

Back to the land is by no means the popular cry any more. It is a couple of decades ago that it was said prophesies that the coming generation will find both pleasure and profit in agriculture as a life work.
